Honorable John Ashcroft:

I believe that the Microsoft settlement is in the best interest of consumers.

Unfortunately strong lobbying from Microsoft competitors not only want to brake up the company in two, but also want Microsoft to cease to exist.

As a consumer of computer technology I believe that companies like Microsoft enable innovation in their product and have put a working product in the hands of every American. Personally I can not use Sun Microsystems's product in the home because they are too expensive and complicated to use or else I would also.

Thank you for hearing my opinion.
